Summary

I am a Software Development student at WeThinkCode_.

I first studied at the University of the Western Cape where I became a graduate in the field of Commerce, majoring in Information Systems (IS).

Experiencing university was an experience and a half because that is where I got to develop my love for programming which led me to where I am today, being part of WeThinkCode_.

In my journey, I have come to understand how my professions compliment each other and this is something which I would like to further explore on a larger scale.
